PERSONAL STATEMENT

I'm an 18 years old Web Application Developer from Dhaka, Bangladesh. I'm quite experienced with PHP Codeigniter Framework. I've built several CRUD application with it. Besides, I have worked with an online programming judge system earlier where I worked with the linux shell scripting and process of executing them through web server. That's how I achieved my expertise on linux systems and distributions.

I have been working with web application development for 2 years. I have solid knowledge on UI designing & UX besides PHP development. I have worked with API systems and built API for specialized systems. Though my expertise is in PHP, I would like to work with other language based systems for sharpening my skills. I have good communication skill by which I can learn new things very quickly.

Why don't we work together? Go futher down to see why I am the man you need to hire!
